

Scottish Sentencing Council Twitter policy

Account

The Twitter account @scotsentencing is managed by Communications during office hours.

Tweets will cover a range of Council related content and include:

- news releases
- policy development
- key publications and consultations
- court administration
- recruitment.

Following

We will not automatically follow anyone who follows us. Being followed by @scotsentencing does not imply an endorsement of any kind.

@scotsentencing will follow and retweet organisations or individuals of relevance to the justice system and the Council in particular. We will cease to follow accounts we believe to be malicious, spam or inappropriate.

Contact

The Council will not necessarily answer messages through Twitter and sending messages to our Twitter feed will not be considered official contact with the Council.

Response

We will not automatically respond to tweets directed to the Council. We may respond either openly or privately to provide factual information or guidance.

Availability

Twitter may occasionally be unavailable and we accept no responsibility for lack of service due to Twitter downtime.

Security

We will change our Twitter password every 6 months using strong passwords.
